

Has the organization worked with university students as interns or advisors?
If so, please list the names of the schools, the projects undertaken, and the dates of the engagements.

Issues to be Addressed

We have found that the most successful projects in the GSE program have several characteristics in common:

1. The scope of the project is very focused and can be undertaken during a single semester by a team of students based in the U.S.
2. The project centers around a business challenge that the organization is facing; examples include: ways to increase earned income; development of a financial model to help project long-term sustainability; analyzing the feasibility of launching a new venture.
3. The organization has sufficient staff capacity to devote to working with the student team during the semester and to implement the proposed recommendations.

Please write a 2-3 page statement addressing the following questions:

- How has your organization had an impact on your constituents' well being?
- How would your organization benefit from participating in the Yale School of Management's Global Social Entrepreneurship program? What project or organizational issues would you seek to address? What metrics would you use to gauge the success of the project?

By submitting this application, you are certifying that the information you are providing is complete and accurate, and that all the statements and essays are your own work.

Participating in the workshop includes a commitment to participate in all elements of the course, including:

- hosting a visit by Yale students to your organization in August 2010
- a visit to Yale by two of your representatives (including the person who will be the primary point of contact for the project during the semester) for a week in September/October 2010 (travel and related costs will be covered by Yale. The only costs that you will be responsible for will be those related to procuring a valid visa to come to the U.S.)
- actively participating with students on the project throughout the fall semester (September–December 2010)
- hosting students to make a presentation to your organization in January 2011
- attending a final two-day conference in India in January 2011
- participating in brief, annual written evaluations on the value of the program to your organization
- giving permission to Yale to publish on its web site information on your organization and on the project
